HOW DO YOU GET TO SCHOOL?

... dead tired
... via my roller skates
... on my turtle
... I don't!
... the usual route
... by sheer willpower
... painfully
... in first gear
... barefoot
... we drift in
... Yankee ingenuity
... brains!
... by a bus that unfortunately comes

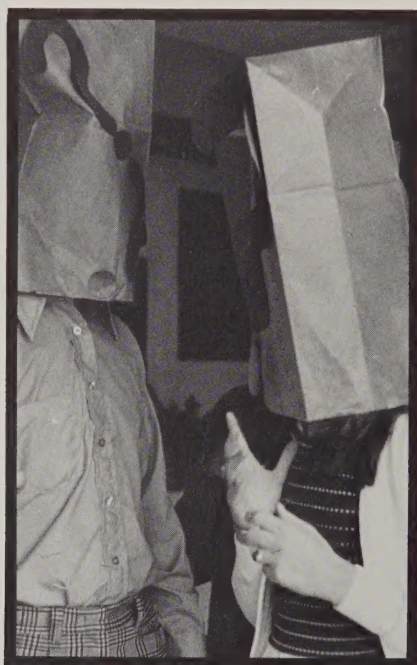

... piggyback — my freshman brother brings me
 ... my mommy brings me
 ... as quick as I can, but I'm still late
 ... smelling like a smokestack; every other kid on my bus smokes!
 ... my chauffeur drives me

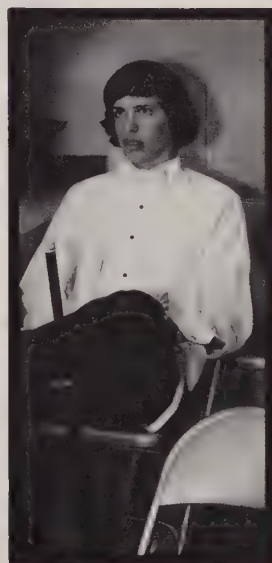

... how are you doing?
 ... "This is a football."
 ... "Can you go a little slower, Coach?"
 ... how's school?
 ... what did you do this summer?
 ... anybody know what we're having for lunch?
 ... what?
 ... how's life treating you?
 ... what're you doing this weekend?
 ... how was your vacation?

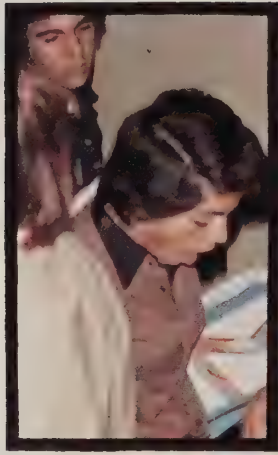

THE EMPTY QUESTION

... what's happening?
... hey you guys, is it raining out?
... where are you going?
... what's new?

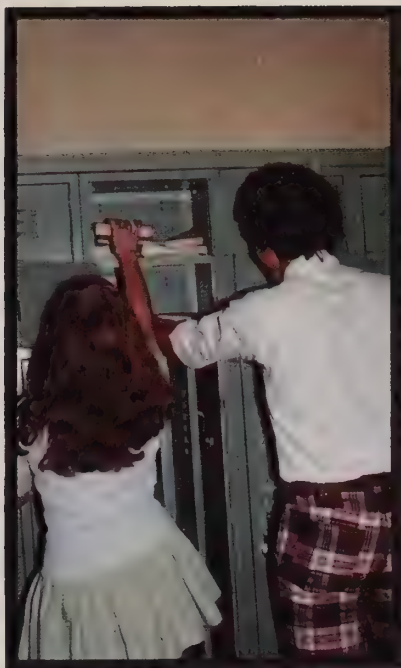

... smoking in the boys' room
 ... so get your elbow out of my ear
 ... so what do you want me to do about it?
 ... striving to reach our goal
 ... fighting like the dickens
 ... so let's make the best of it
 ... in the cafeteria

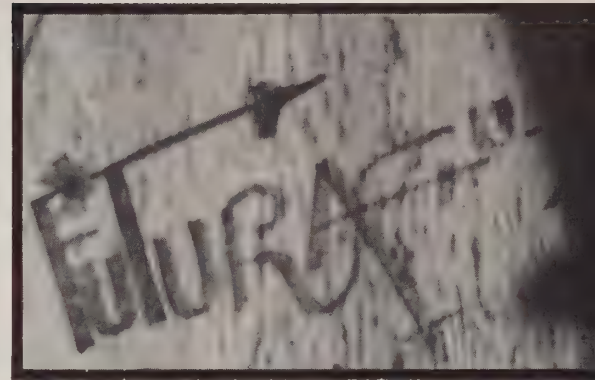

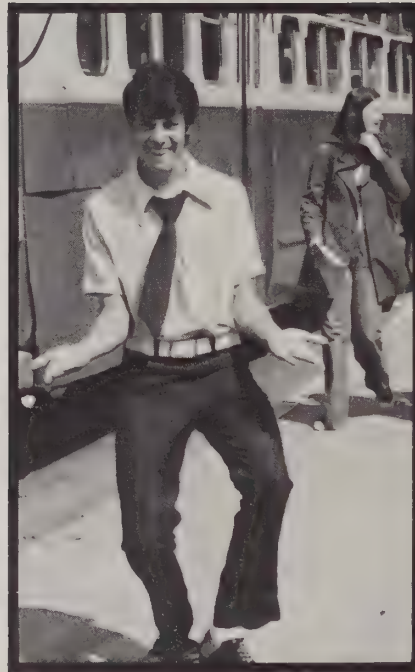

We're All In This Together

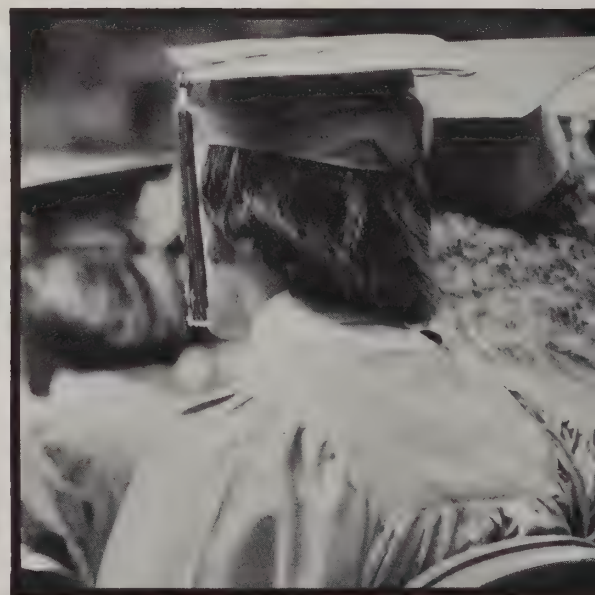

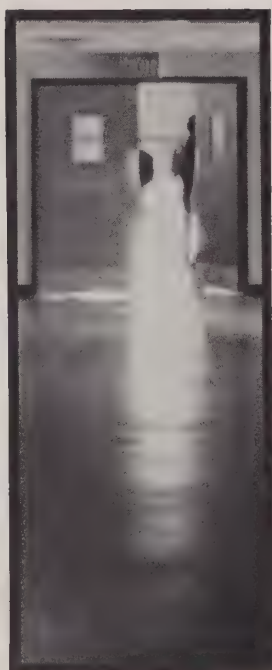

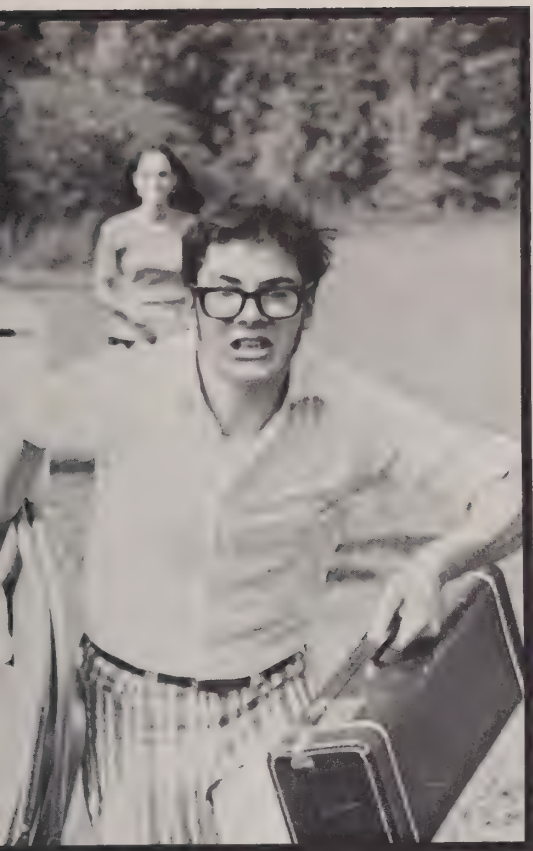

... and two heads are better than one
 ... so why don't you help me out?
 ... me and my shadow
 ... up to our necks
 ... in the science wing

... to detention
 ... to the soccer game after school
 ... I don't know
 ... gotta catch my bus
 ... depends on where I get accepted
 ... home
 ... to college

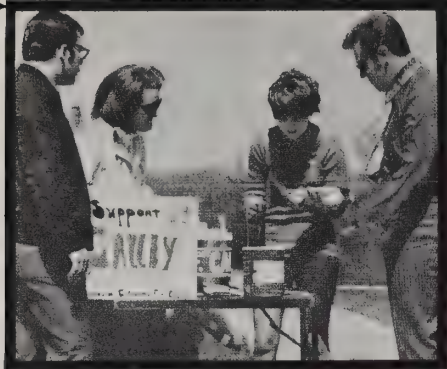

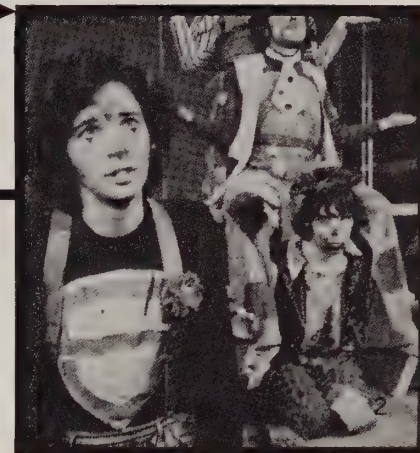

... to lunch
 ... what do you mean by that?
 ... I have to be at work for 3:00
 ... out the door
 ... say that again!
 ... up
 ... where's here?
 ... to the unemployment office
 ... is this a survey or something?

Language Classes Share Program

Highlighting the year,
International Night,
organized by students and faculty of the language department,
focused on culture.

The cafeteria
was sectioned off
into cafes representing each country studied.

All participants
were involved
in some activity.

Not covering sufficient material
led individual
and group projects
to be diminished
in the classroom.

The door
to the language lab
was barely opened
for testing purposes
because teachers wrote
their own tests.

Many of the students took part in two trips offered
by the travel club,
one to Italy
and another to Spain.

Curriculum, Personnel Add To Science Department

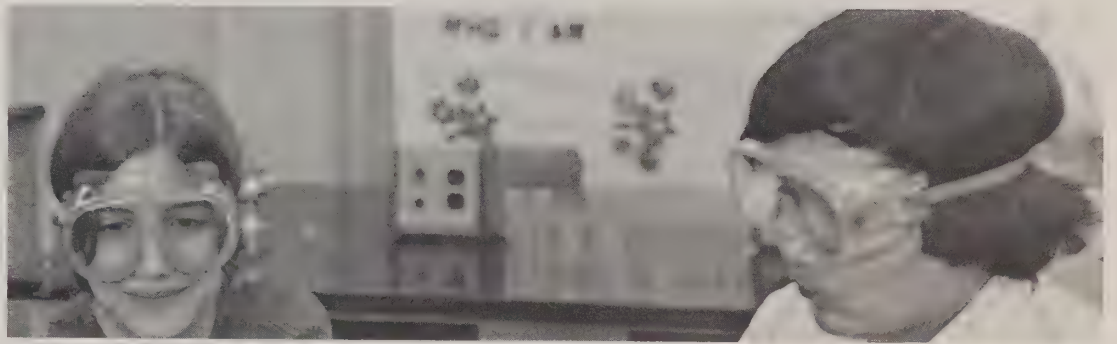

This year saw, not only new techniques, but also many new faces and AVA materials in the Science Department. CHS welcomed Ms. Mary McGuire, Mrs. Elizabeth Contant, Miss Jeanne Monaghan, and Ms. Cathleen Corcoran to its Science Wing.

Another new face to the department was Mr. Roger Lavalley, a math teacher, who teaches Computer Science.

A new course, Psychology, was taught by Mr. Richard Barry. Adding to the interest of A.P. Biology was a small menagerie, making room 261 appear much like a zoo. Seniors had the broadest scope of courses available with A.P. Chemistry, Physics, Physiology, and Science and Society, as well as Psychology and A.P. Biology. Biology was included in the Freshman course selection where previously there had been only one honors class.

Science classes sponsored several school-wide programs.

Among these were Environmental Awareness Day and the Anti-Smoking Campaign.

THE "21 INCH CLASSROOM"

A study aid that is being utilized this year by the science teachers is the 21" Classroom or video-tape machine. This audio-visual aid in addition to the one in the History department increases the number owned by the school to two. Students find it extremely helpful inside the classroom and out.

Even though we didn't get to play much this year, deep in our minds, we knew who lead the team, it was nice knowing another face. Lotsa luck in college.

New Courses Enhance English Department's Outlook

Inter-disciplinary humanities was a new feature in the English Department. Offered to seniors and juniors, the course embodied studies in English, Theology, and History.

Operating on a grant from the National Humanities Fund, the class was taught by Mr. William McBride, Mrs. Jeanette Paul and Sr. Veronica Brown. Three credits were given for the course which covered three class periods.

Under the direction of Mrs. Shirley Pratt and Sr. Ann Lynch, the department offered a diversity of course electives which allowed each student to pursue his own interests. Freshmen were offered a new Study Skills program which was of great value to them in forming good study habits.

Co-curricular activities included sophomores attending a Stage West production of Marcus Brutus to supplement their study of Julius Casear. The humanities class sponsored the UMass Ballet Company for interested students.

7

Through literature the Interdisciplinary Humanities class evaluated various conceptions of man's destiny. Mary Shelley's Frankenstein and Shakespeare's Tempest were among the works used to explore this problem. To present different versions of the play Antigone, the class was divided into two groups.

While one acted the play in the traditional way, the other group interpreted it differently and used Charlie Brown and his friends as the characters.

1 Sophomores display their dramatic talents in the play The Licence. 2 Displaying poise and confidence, Kathy Kevane delivers a speech. 3 Freshman John Murphy shares his ideas with his classmates. 4 Concentrating deeply, James Morgan ponders a question. 5 Rich Sergienko consults the text for an answer. 6 As the teacher explains a fine point, Dan Allen, Rich Armada, and Marc Columbe listen intently. 7 In a Major British Authors class Mrs. Jeanette Paul directs class discussion.

A new form of cultural enrichment was brought to CHS students by the Interdisciplinary Humanities class.

Featured in this endeavor were the University Dancers who used various types of modern dance to entertain. The artists are enrolled at UMass and perform at various functions for college credit.

God And Man Go Hand In Hand

8

The Theology department this year initiated two new courses: Bible course which offered students enough background material necessary to understand and comprehend the Old Testament, and the Interdisciplinary Humanities which took an approach towards the 21st Century with themes of freedom, communication, and responsibility incorporated in it. Freshman Theology classes stressed independence while searching for a meaningful answer to "Who am I?" An in-depth study of the sacraments created a readiness for Sophomore students to become more aware of Christian love and the religious dimension of their everyday experiences. East-West Religions compared the Christian relationship and attitudes toward God with Hindu and Buddhist religious beliefs and traditions. An examination of the community in terms of the ideas of Church and Kingdom highlighted Christian Community classes. Seniors in Theology Through Literature and Film viewed films while exploring existentialism and Christian values. The options man considers through friendship, love, and loneliness were emphasized in the marriage course. The holy year theme of reconciliation was implemented by means of an adult education class directed by Fr. Richard Riendeau and Mr. David Laux.

Experience Broadens Viewpoints

The Social Studies Department used practical experience to feature ideas which gave students better insights into history.

A one-year, multi-subject program, taught by quarter, was offered to Freshmen this year.

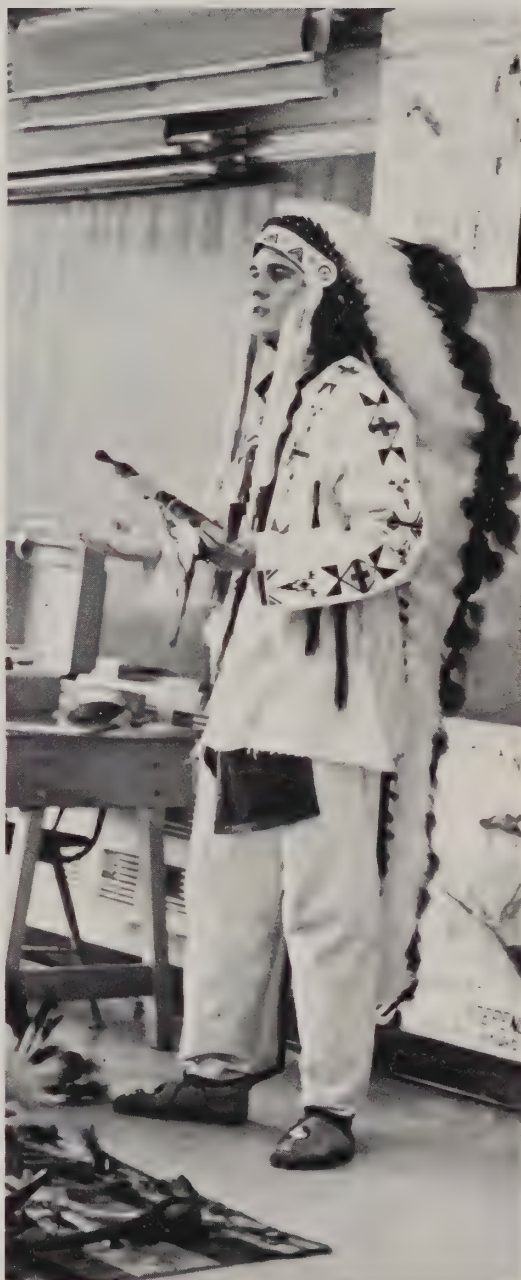

In the Inter-disciplinary Humanities Program, students were confronted with problems which will arise in the 21st century.

US government courses offered an in-depth view of public opinion, civil liberties, and the major political parties.

The course initiated an opinion poll and followed up with a mini-course on the legislative process and the citizen's role in democracy. Foreign policy was analyzed and its study enhanced by a speaker from UMass.

Springfield served as a laboratory of study for the Urban Affairs class, which compared US cities with European counterparts.

The course expanded its view of law and society by witnessing local court activities, and several lawyers visited the class to hold workshops. Cathedral students attended the AIC Model United Nations held in May, and sent a team to the model United Nations held in New York.

The Inter-disciplinary Humanities Program was host to Dr. James Dator, a political scientist, who visited CHS as part of a series of visiting speakers from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The noted authority on "futuristics," in a series of lectures to students and faculty members presented a preview of possible lifestyles and educational alternatives in the 21st century. He later delivered a public lecture entitled "Alternative Futures: What are the choices?"

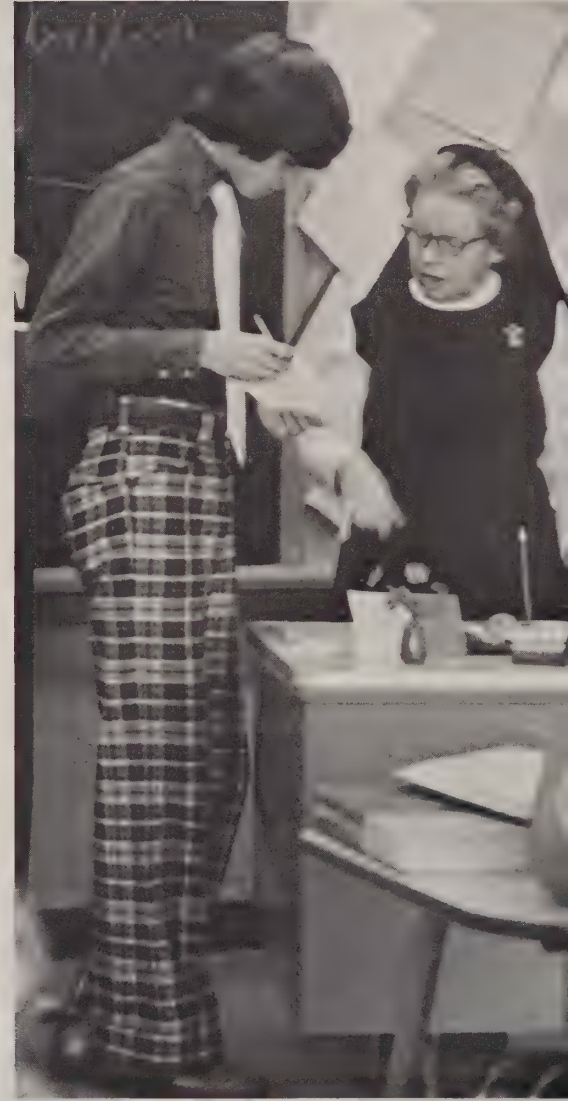

1 Senior Louis Sagon explains various aspects of Indian culture. 2 Ancient Greece and Rome prove to be an enjoyable study for John Serafino. 3 Guest speaker, Fr. Peter Loughran gives a lecture on Irish history. 4 During a legislative mini-course, Kathy Albano and Mrs. Garvey discuss procedure. 5 The nook outside the Social Studies Resource Center is a popular meeting place for student groups. 6 Former governor, Francis Sargent delivers a campaign speech in the Springfield area. 7 Listening attentively, Kathy Evans participates in a group discussion. 8 World hunger is expressed on the social studies bulletin board.

Semester Courses Strengthen Math Department

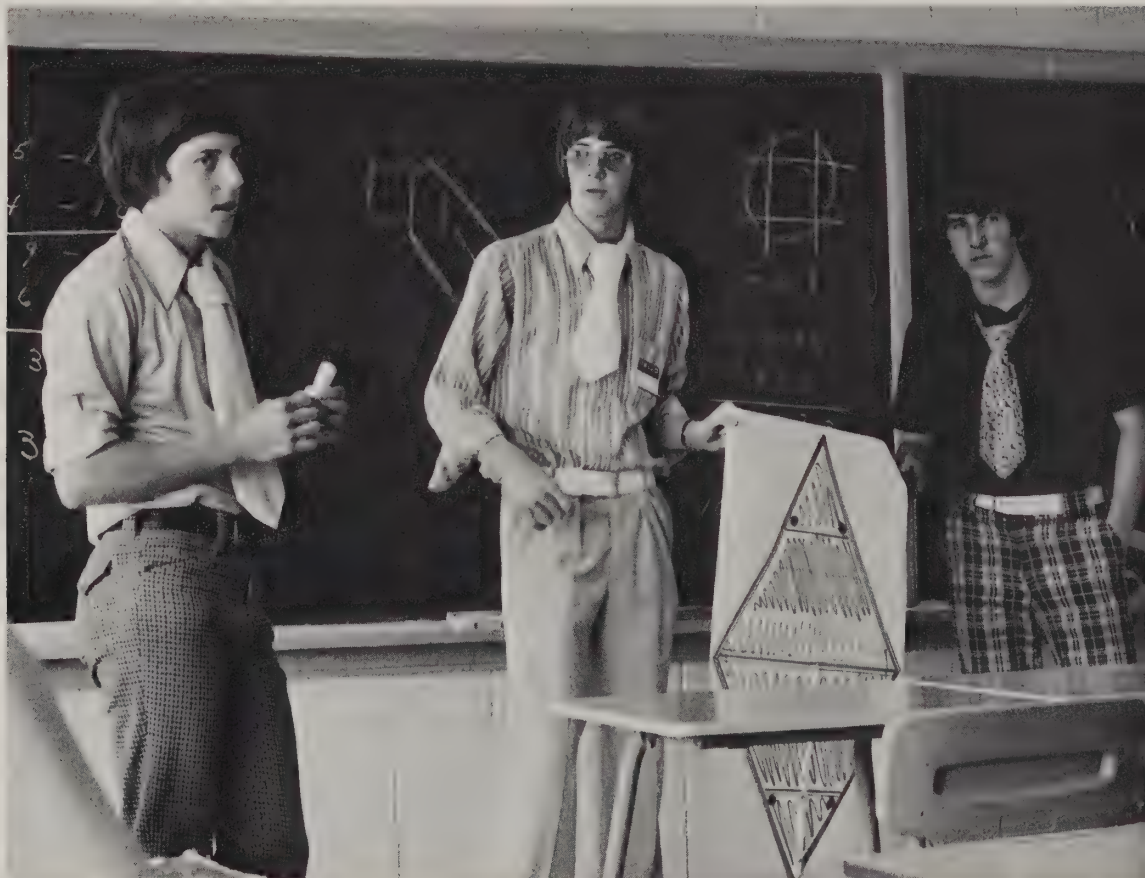

Striving to expand students' mathematical knowledge, the Math Department offered five new semester courses to juniors and seniors who had already completed Algebra I and Geometry. These courses included Logic, Analytical Geometry, Math for Better Living, Trigonometry, and Probability and Statistics. Some of these offerings added a new dimension to the standard Math program because they dealt with practical situations that could be applied to everyday life, such as how to balance a check book and what to look for in selecting the best insurance policy. Other courses were aimed at giving students a chance to meet college requirements without having to take a full year math course. Freshmen, for the first time, had the opportunity of choosing Algebra or Geometry.

Higher Prices Hamper Homemakers

Interest remained high in the Bachelor Foods course as it became a semester course this year.

Males as well as females learned to prepare a variety of foods ranging from hors d'oeuvres to dessert, including some "snack" foods.

In these days of high food prices, meal planning became an important asset to a cook's talents. Emphasis was placed on low cost — high nutrition foods. Consumer Economecs, a newly instituted semester course, taught the importance of comparison shopping. Quality was emphasized in the search for lower food prices.

A major project this year was the preparation of a well-balanced spaghetti dinner for people involved in Model Senate.

High clothing prices forced people to take up home sewing to enlarge their wardrobes.

In an effort to equip themselves with necessary skills, students turned to Sr. Barbara Gumpright's sewing classes.

Any student who demonstrated the basic skills normally taught in Clothing I was able to begin with Clothing II in an experimental program this year.

Advanced clothing students worked on the techniques involved in tailoring coats.

All seven classes worked on a project for Springfield's Bi-centennial celebration.

Students Learn To Drive With New Ford Maverick; New Melodies Harmonize In Music Appreciation

Although the price of gas has gone up
and the speed limit down, Drivers' Ed. is still a popular course.

A new Ford Maverick came completely equipped with anti-airpollution devices
and a six-cylinder engine
which used as much space
and gas as their old
eight-cylinder car.
International directional signs
proved easier to follow
while the drivers cut down
on trying to read the signs and kept their eyes
on the road.

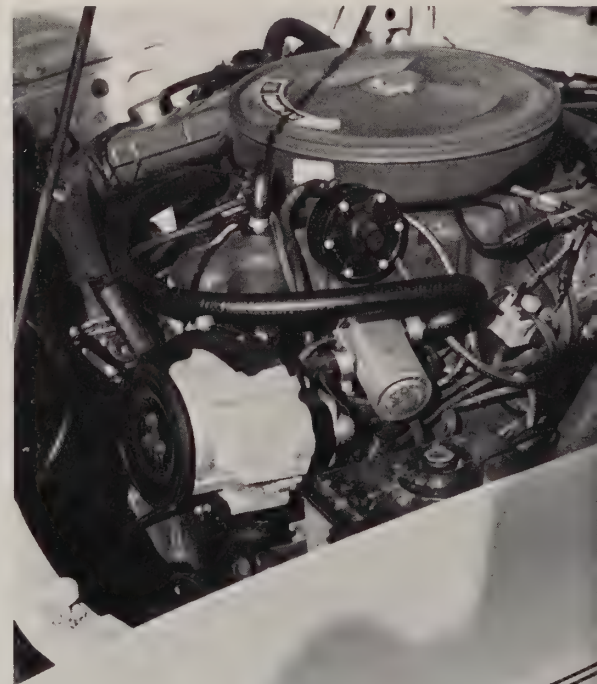

Music Appreciation
had a successful second year
with a class
of twenty-one students.
Along with repeats
of last year
Mr. Dante Pilegi tried
some new approaches,
among them
the teaching of music theory
and four part harmony.
Chords and chord structure
also played a part in the curriculum.
Some of the
musically talented students,
as well as Mr. Pilegi, brightened up the class
by performing on occasion.

1 Student driver Diane Farwell painstakingly begins her first drive. 2 With utmost concentration, Paula Hodecker expands her design. 3 New International Signs aid in safe driving. 4 Becoming aware of the parts of the engine aids new drivers. 5 Accuracy is important in Michael Pantuosco's work. 6 Checking the basic design, Jeff Angers verifies his drawing. 7 "This is what we call a triplet," explains Mr. Pilegi. 8 Stereo enhances the students' appreciation for music. 9 Senior Matt Wolff diligently prepares his drawing. 10 Mistakes are quickly taken care of by Basic Tech students.

Industrial Arts Kicks Off Bicentennial Exhibit

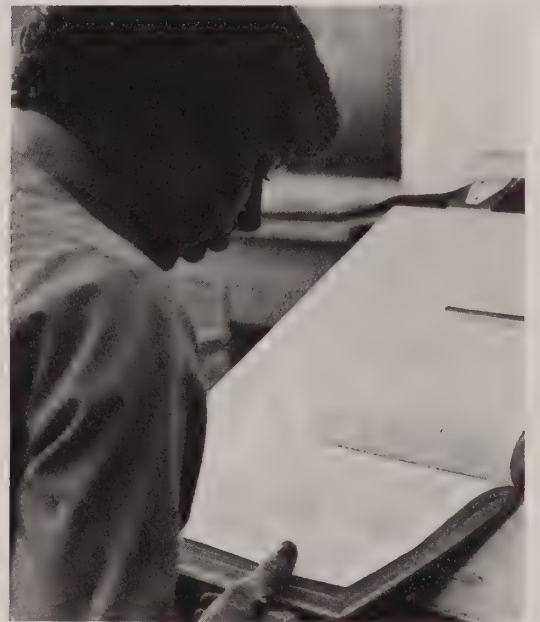

2

With the upcoming Bicentennial, Industrial Arts classes helped bring interest into the celebration. Using the floor plans of old schoolhouses, the classes reconstructed buildings. More advanced Mechanical Drawing classes did more detailed designs while Basic Tech classes made the vital outlines. Each student was also given an outside project of designing something and then preparing a scale model of his work.

Half Year Course Changes Look Of PE Department

This year
the P.E. Department
initiated a new process
of scheduling students.

Sophomores
took gym daily
during the first semester
while Frosh
took it in the second.

Both Sr. Beverly Rochford
and Mr. John Michalek favored this method
since it allowed them
to watch students'
everyday progress.

They cited, however,
the disadvantage
that no gym program
could be offered to the students

for the other semester.

Along with Sr. Beverly,
Mrs. Jean Pelland

offered the girls
various activities
such as tennis

badminton, volleyball,
gymnastics and floor exercises,
softball and basketball.

A week-long concentration
on the dangers of smoking,

a complete
personal conditioning program,

and self-defense
as presented by

Lt. Daniel Spellasy
of the Springfield

Police Department
were included

in the program.

Coach Michalek,

Mr. Richard Discenza

and Mr. William Wise supervised the boys' schedule

which consisted of football, soccer, basketball,

wrestling and volleyball.

The boys' program

stressed the importance of weight-lifting

in competitive sports

as well as in daily physical fitness.

Craftsmen Of Art Department Expand Skills

New ideas
and a widened scope
of art courses
including silversmithing
and acrylic painting expanded this year's Art Department.

Experimentation
with a crafts workshop
encouraged students
to bring a craft
and work on it
during class.

The kiln room, equipped with necessary kiln
and glazes,
enabled artists
to more efficiently complete their ceramic pieces.
This privilege was extended to students in Art III
and Art IV

The Cathedral Art Dept.
was honored to receive invitations to display
its art work
at the Forest Park Library
and at the Elms College.

Business Department investigates new professions

The business department's main concern this year was to broaden students' career outlook.

Business Communications was added to the curriculum to help students increase their knowledge of business vocabulary.

Girls in Office Practice classes gained access to business machines which they will most likely encounter in a working situation.

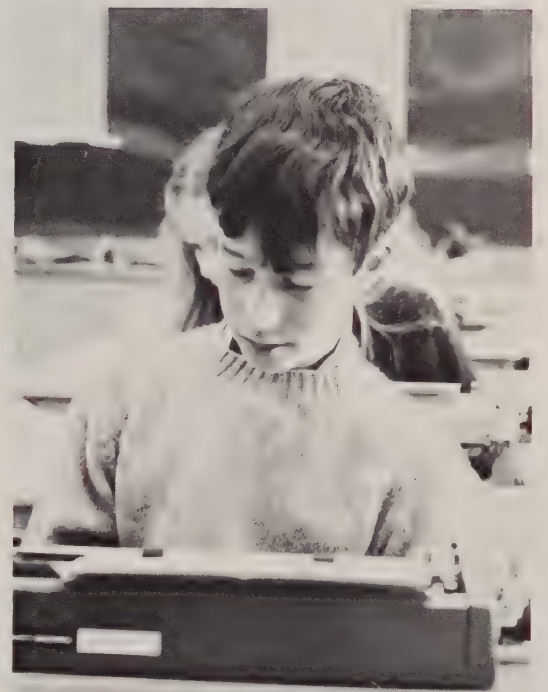

Mr. David J. Creighton became part of the department, adding a man's point of view.

A field trip focusing on "Careers in Distribution" took accounting classes to Holyoke Community College.

First hand information on careers was given from people working steadily on the job, to help students alter or finalize their career plans.

Hockey

During the past few years,
interest has grown immensely
in the sport of hockey.
The enthusiasm can be attributed to various factors,
but Cathedral's Panthers account
for a substantial amount of this growing attraction.
Many thought it would be a year of rebuilding.

No one could have analyzed the pucksters more inaccurately.
The Panthers opened their season with a series of victorious bouts
which established them
in the top ranks
of the Berry Division.
Led by veterans Kevin Conway,
Rick Gaw and Bill Ellis,
the stickmen skated on to be one of the more accomplished teams in the league.
Netminder Gary Mastroianni
turned in a superb season
along with juniors Jeff Angers, Jack Morganstern, Brian Kenney,
and Mark Gallagher.
Outstanding rookies Paul Fenton,
Tony Pioggia, and Mike Binney
blended talents and energy to add to the team's success.
Throughout the season,
the Panthers provided
a tremendous team effort,
and always gave the opposition
a hard, well-fought battle.

Basketball

This was tabbed as a rebuilding year for the Panther Hoop Team.

The team included, with the exception of Mike Crowley, all new faces. Some of these were captain Neil Maloney, Tom Foley, Bryon Cyr, and Jim Peys, who led the squad in scoring, with an average of 20 points per game.

Coach Tom Ford brought his rookies far, taking fourth in the Inter-school league.

One of the year's most exciting games was against first place

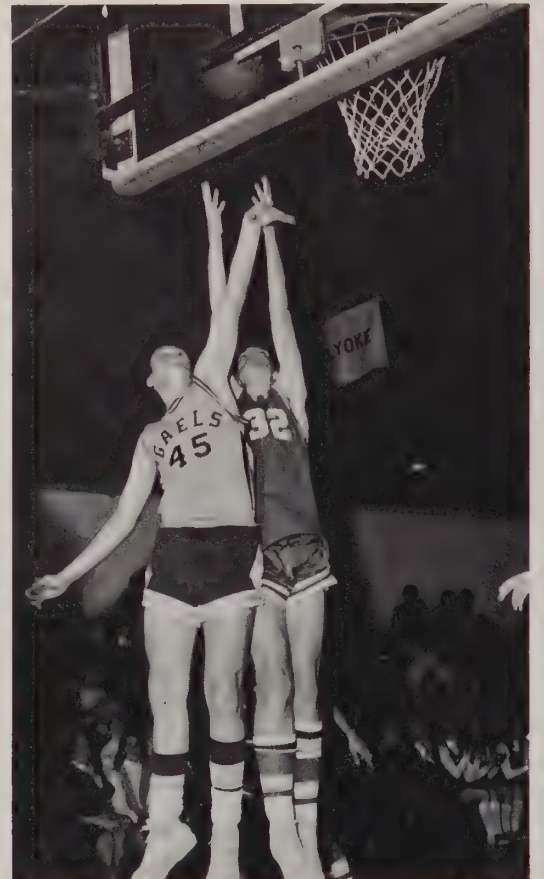

Classical. At the end of the fourth quarter, the two teams were deadlocked at 50-50. The Panthers put up a great effort but, at the end of overtime, lost by three points.

Boys' Swimming

Cathedral's boys' swim team for the first time in 16 years boasted an undefeated season.

Under the direction of co-captains John Vevier and Dan Reardon the Panthers ended with a 14-0 record. Among outstanding competitions were meets with Minnechaug and rival East Longmeadow. School records were broken by John Vevier who swam the 100 yd. freestyle in 51.7 seconds and Joe Donnellan who did the 100 yd. butterfly in 58.9 seconds.

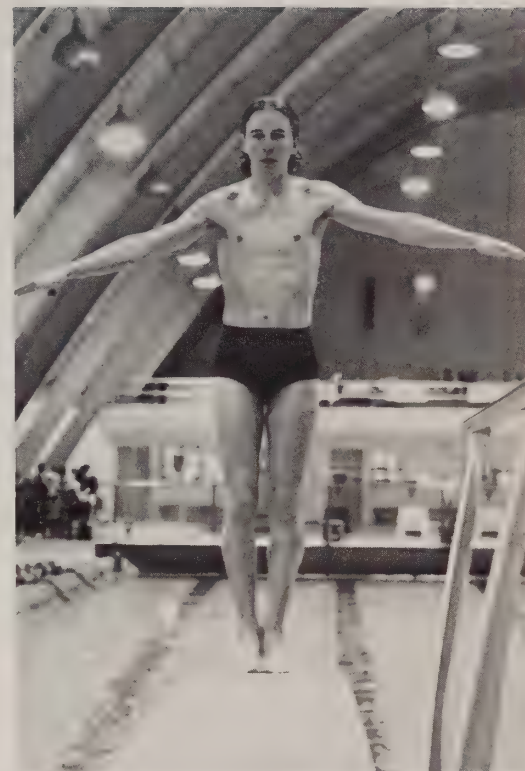

High scorers for the team were John Vevier, Bob Canning, and Tom Welch; George Lawler scored highest in diving.

Led by rookie coach Pat Dardenne and asst. coach Bruce Markiewicz, the Panthers captured first place in WMass and went on to win the State Title. Outstanding swimmers in this meet were Tom Welch, Tom Moran, and Chris Boutin.

Senior Dan Reardon secured first place in the 100 yd. breaststroke in both WMass and State Competition.

Girls' Basketball

Dominating area competition, the girls' basketball team demonstrated versatility and balance.

This brought them a record of 18-4 and allowed them a high place in the WMass Tournament.

Jeanine Bourke, highest scorer and rebounder, and tri-captains Mary Crum, Tara Mahon, and Patricia Ryan provided leadership for a unified team.

The Panthers suffered two early defeats from Minnechaug, who proved to be the team's toughest rival; but victory became a habit as the team demonstrated a strength that went beyond height.

Wrestling

Chalking up another undefeated season, the grapplers boosted their WMass league record to 71 consecutive wins in the past four seasons. Veteran varsity members Paul Gallagher, Ken Gauthier, Matt Roberts and Bill Pegararo, with the support of many rookie members, led the team to victory. Coach Ben Aleks and assistant coach Tom Klement were impressed by the determination and vigor the matmen displayed throughout the season. Long-time rival Tech provided the Panthers with the "highlight of the season" meet. Before a capacity crowd at Tech High gym, the wrestlers, powered by strong middle-weight classes, romped over the Tigers with a 28-19 victory. Jeff Bouyea was the most improved wrestler of the season, wrestling alternately in the 185 pound weight class and heavyweight. A second place in WMass Sectional Tournaments rounded out the season.

Boys' Skiing

Under the direction of co-captains Chris Tuomey and Andy Choquette, the boys' ski team had a strong season, suffering only two defeats from their old rivals Holyoke and West Side. The team's strength was strongly challenged in a meet with Northampton but Cathedral managed to secure victory by a close 119 to 118. Enthusiasm and determination helped the skiers to overcome unfavorable ski conditions which plagued them in the beginning of the season. According to first-year coach Rob Cary, the tight-knit, compact team had a great deal of spirit which led to many victories.

Girls' Skiing

Beginning preparation for their season early, the Girls' Ski team practiced at least three times a week behind the school. Practices included a combination of calisthenics and mock race course runs. The team carried a heavy schedule, racing every Monday evening at Mt. Tom. The strength of the team lay in racers Sarah Rickarby, Amy Tuomey, and Cheryl St. Pierre. Under the leadership of co-captains Carol Pronovost and Cindy Olson, the team strove to better their individual times, and improve their style. Although individual performance is important in racing, the skiers worked well together as a unit.

Boys' Gymnastics

Cathedral's boys' gymnastic team completed its '75 season with a flawless 8-0 record, despite strong opposition from West Springfield and other difficult competitors.

This undefeated record enabled the team to claim the WMass Conference Title. Although the title had been won in previous years, the '75 season marked the first time the team grasped the title with a perfect record.

After winning the WMass Conference Title, they participated in the WMass Tournament, capturing first place.

Coach Harrison Ostrander was enthusiastic about this year's performance.

Rated as outstanding were co-captains Rich Montmeny and Rich Maurer, seniors Paul Janeczak, Greg Paine, Mike Lameroux, and sophomores

Alex Choquette and Jim LeBlanc. Seniors Rich Montmeny and Mike Lameroux qualified for the All WMass team.

Girls' Gymnastics

Under the direction of new coach Lynn Wilds, the girls' gymnastics team achieved an unprecedented season.

This year's only loss was to Hampshire Regional by a margin of .05.

The 18-member squad, consisting largely of underclassmen, was chosen from a field of 22 candidates.

In the contest against Minnechaug, the team broke the school record for total points in a single meet.

Consistent performances by soph Lori Tranghese and frosh Anne-Marie Harrington gave strong support to the team throughout the year.

In addition, five girls qualified for the State Individual Meet.

Anne-Marie Harrington placed second in all-around competition in Western Mass.

7

Bowling

After a challenging year, the CHS candle pin bowling team placed second in both rounds of inter-city competition. Although Father Daniel O'Hear coach, stressed the team unit, there were a handful of phenomenal individuals. Dan Mahue, a freshman, bowled a 130, one of three high strings within the league. Bill Witaszek, a 99.8-average bowler, and David Payne, outstanding player, contributed their talents to the pinsters. The Cathedral bowling squad completed the year with a 6-2 record and another second place in total pins.

Indoor Track

2

Indoor Track captured the WMass title for the first time since the team was formed in 1969. This success was attributed to the runners', continuous hard work and enthusiasm. Depth was displayed as the team scored in every event except the high jump due to John Carleton's ankle injury. Matt Wolff, Cathedral's only individual winner, won the 2-mile in 9:48.5. A record 8:58.2 in the 2-mile relay was set by Chris Garvey, Bill Hayes, Ted McCarthy, and Mark Tessier. Another record time of 2:51.7 was scored in the 8-lap relay by Carlos Arrastia, Frank Keough, Ted McCarthy, and Bill Hayes. Finalists for the State Championship were Matt Wolff in the 2-mile, Tom Hayes in the 300 yd., and Frank Keough in the 50 yd.

Tennis

Senior Chris Mayotte caused much mayhem in the Mass. Independent State final matches.

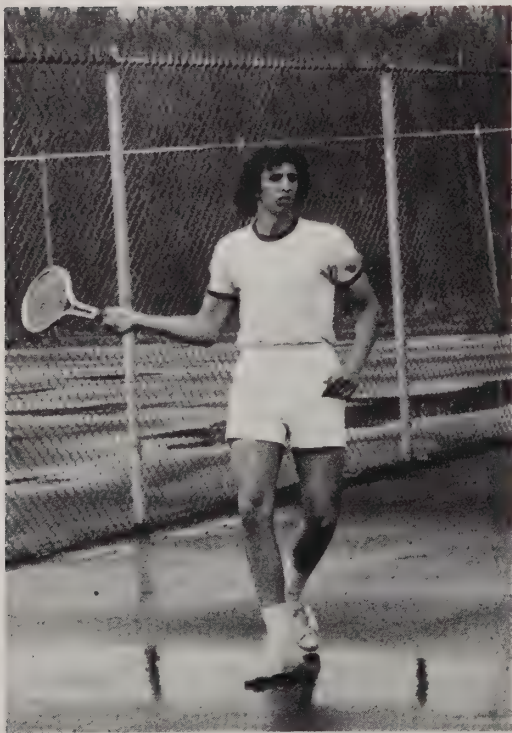

Foiling his foe, he fought to a 6-1, 6-0 finale, and finally floated to a fantastic first finish in the state.

The regal racketeers ripped riotously through the ranks of area competition arriving at a record of 17-5.

Cathedral captured many quick victories and conquered its counterparts climbing close to a W Mass championship but were clipped in the semi-finals.

Softball

A short while back there was a documentary on television, which illustrated how poorly funded women's athletics are.

If a team's accomplishments determine its athletic funding, then the CHS girls' softball team deserves a million dollars.

Team unity and one hundred per cent effort gave the '74 team a winning season.

Their 14-1 seasonal record qualified them for the WMass tournament in which they were seeded number one.

In a tight final game of tournament play the Panthers were defeated at the hands of Mahar Regional by a disappointing 7-5.

Girls' Swimming

Women swimmers worked hard all year to build a strong successful team.

This hard work paid off in a close meet with their old rival Minnechaug.

Although they were narrowly defeated they managed to put forth their best effort against that team to date.

Prospects for next season look good with much depth resulting from underclass strength.

Under the direction of co-captains Mary Curran and Cathy Wall the team was led to a 10-4 season.

A strong event for the team was the 200 meter Medley Relay composed of Chris Shea, MaryAnne Daly, Maureen Rickson and Cheryl St. Pierre.

Cheryl was high scorer for the team and very strong in the butterfly.

The combined aquatic skills of the team members led to fifth place in WMass.

Soccer

Cathedral's soccer team opened its '74 season determined to win the WMass Tournament. Coach Lee Kenworthy felt that this year's squad was the hardest-working team Cathedral has ever produced.

Panthers, led by co-captains Paul Obermeyer and Jackie Marrinan, enjoyed an undefeated independent schedule.

They were victorious in their first two league games, but a disputed penalty kick cost the Panthers their first defeat to Classical. The squad regained confidence by shutting out Tech, only to be stopped once again by the Bulldogs.

In semi-final competition, Cathedral avenged their two previous losses by blanking Classical 1-0.

Entering the finals against West Side, the Panthers held the lead until the fourth quarter, when the Terriers scored two unanswered goals, crushing Cathedral's hopes of entering State competition. Jackie Marrinan, Fran Pantuosco, and Paul Obermeyer were selected for the All-WMass Coaches Team for their outstanding performances.

Football

Cathedral gridmen returned this year to achieve a successful six and four record recovering from last year's winless season. The Panthers for the first time since 1968 recorded more wins than losses. Coach Michalak credited the improvement to the weight-lifting program and increased determination among members of the team.

Under the direction of co-captains John Santaniello and Paul Anderson, the 45-man squad captured fourth place in the AA Conference and third in scoring for WMass. Despite four losses the Panthers were never held under two touchdowns and averaged 25 points a game.

Among the outstanding players were Steve Drewnowski, John Carleton, George Atkins, John Santaniello, Rich Heineman, and Paul Anderson, all of whom made All-City; Paul Anderson and Rich Heineman also made All-WMass.

Volunteers Help School

Did you ever walk into a room at Cathedral and see someone's mother proctoring a class or tidying up one of the resource centers? If you did it is probably because she is one of the women who give up their free time in service for the school. The women help by answering the switchboard, working in guidance as well as in the Science and Social Studies Resource Centers. Their many hours of work are greatly appreciated by all members of the student body and administration.

Cheerleaders Encourage Spirit

Cheerleading welcomed five new faces this year along with many changes. For the first time in Cathedral's history the girls were cheering at soccer as well as football games. To keep in shape the girls practiced bi-weekly, sharpening their routines. The cheerleaders swung into the basketball season sporting new uniforms. The squad, coached by Bernadette Neyers and led by co-captains Kathy Murren and Peggy Powers, participated in two competitions, one in January and the other in April to conclude a full year's schedule.

Recognition Given For Dedication And Scholarship

Every year recognition is given to those few who have excelled in scholarship, sports, and community concern. Their work was done with talent, spirit, and dedication. These people who have gone above the norm are receiving recognition not so much for the honor they have attained but more importantly for the process through which they went to obtain their final goal.

NHS Symbolizes Service

National Honor Society members stressed community involvement by volunteering their services both in school and out. Seniors worked at Shriners' Hospital and juniors participated in the Easter Seal Drive. Other activities included a Halloween party for the emotionally disturbed and a collection of clothes for Appalachia. In February 52 seniors and 38 juniors were inducted into the society. Mayor William Sullivan and Fr. Francis Manning were inducted as honorary members.

Senate Moves On Controversial Issues

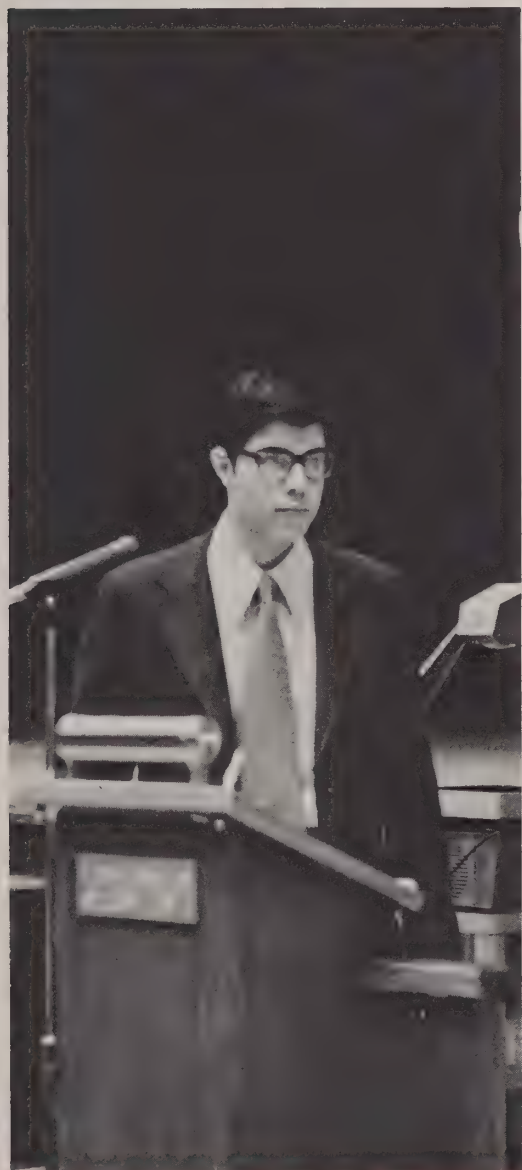

This year's Model Senate passed two bills concerning Civil Rights and Social Services. Committeepersons began preparations in October, hearing testimony, and compiling information which was used in the formation of gun control and welfare-reform bills. Legislation strictly limited the use of handguns, and provided for a national welfare program. Leadership was provided by Kathy Albano, first woman president, Frank Fragomeni, majority leader, and Bob Martin, minority leader.

Showmen Enact Parts In School Presentations

A diversity of skills among CHS students was exemplified in three productions this year.

the fifth annual Gym Show gave gym team members a chance to perform acrobatic feats in a performance other than gymnastic competition. Creative lighting and carefully rehearsed numbers produced an enjoyable show.

Some 30 numbers planned and performed by students accentuated the theme of the 1974 Minstrel which centered around a couple looking back over 25 years of marriage. Under the direction of Mr. Jean Pierre Beauregard, a seven-member student committee organized the show. Members of the stage crew constructed a unique revolving platform which facilitated the necessary change from living room to attic scene. Lighting arrangements were also perfected by students.

In Rev. Richard Reindeau's production of Noah, students worked from Andre Obey's script and portrayed characters based on the biblical story. The work, while appearing simple on the surface, carried a deeper philosophical meaning and provided an interesting challenge to students in the audience.

Students Utilize Talents In Forensic League

The appeal of the CHS Speech Team lies in its wide range of categories. The addition of the Multiple Reading Category to the list of competitive fields added to the dimensions of oral expression. This category consists of five to eight members who dramatize a selection through facial expressions and words, without props or motions. This year's team was successful in the Dioces an Competition. The 21 members who made it to the finals all waxed triumphant with Gold Medals. More opportunities for competition were available to the members with added meets at Boston. Unification of the team came from the direction of Ms. Barbara Wrega and the team's officers, who for the first time played a role in the planning of competitions. With the experience of Mark Chartier and Julie Koeniger the CHS Debating Team continued its excellent performance. One of the earliest successes of the team was a disputed second place finish in Burlington, Vermont. This year's National Debate Topic: "Resolved: That the U. S. government should significantly change the method of election of the Vice-President," proved interesting and pertinent. Extensive preparation for this topic necessitated researching the election process, the purpose of the electoral college, campaign laws, and the requirements for voting. Mr. William McBride, moderator of the team, was pleased with its performance and the team's placement in National Finals at Philadelphia.

The Family

There once lived a child.
She was a very ordinary child,
except for the fact that she had thirty-six parents.

These people worried
a great deal about her,
for she was conceived and born with much anxiety and great pain.

What's more,
she was born very slowly,
one piece at a time.

As you can imagine,
this was very upsetting.
But the thirty-six parents combined their best efforts to tie their child together and transform her into a vibrant, happy being.
And when when it was done,
the thirty-six parents saw
that their child was beautiful,
and they were very happy.

And they named her
PANTHERPIX '75.

Chronicle continues to inform student body

For the twenty-seventh year the Chronicle staff received All-American and Medialist Awards from the National Scholastic Press and the Columbia Scholastic Press. For complete coverage of school events the Chronicle gained high ratings from the Catholic Press, St. Bonaventure's Press, and the A. I. C. Press Forum. The 40-member staff headed by jr. Chris Tetreault sustained the tradition of winning awards. CHS totally produced the Chronicle except for its final printing, which is done outside the school. Students gained experience in journalism class to improve the publication, and many hours of after school work resulted in a biweekly edition of the newspaper.

Student participation in clubs demonstrates concern

Competitors once again vied for winning honors as the Chess Club continued to battle with other city schools. Guided by Mr. Roy Scribner, they also practiced among themselves, and attempted to perfect their playing ability.

Directed by Sr. Marita Joseph, the Math Club pursued its annual project of sending Christmas scenes and sweaters to Kenya. Students reviewed problems from the State Prize Math Exam, and Mathletes excelled in league competition, finishing first.

Ecology has been a topic of many conversations recently and the Recycling Club is an organization which has acted. Successful supervision of last year's Earth Day enabled them to buy picnic tables for the "backyard." By collecting glass monthly, they attempted to make people aware of litter, and to have them do something about it.

Members of the Spanish Club went weekly to the Spanish Apostolate, and presented hints on arts and crafts, cooking and dancing, to the eager children.

One club open to students outside of CHS was the Radio Club. It offered members the opportunity to receive their ham operator's license, but only after instruction in theory, code, and procedures of the hobby.

Responsible for lighting and audio effects in the auditorium, the Lighting Crew, under Sheila Mathews' and Tim Lynch's management worked many functions, including Drama and Minstrel.

Also involved in plays and the Minstrel, the Stage Crew designed and stabilized required props. This club organized students backstage during the Minstrel, and made sure well planned performances were in order.

Hosting the WMass District Music Festival this year, Mr. Dante Pilegi's Band also attended football games and provided the Christmas show, offering inspiration and enjoyment in both cases.

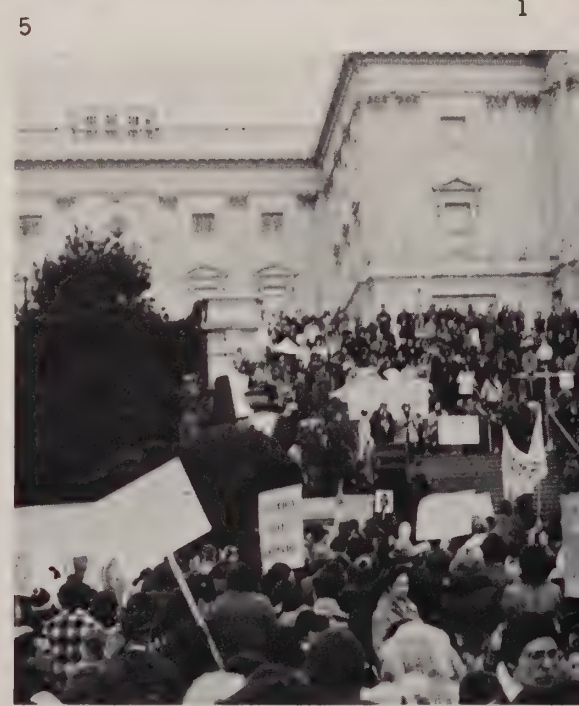

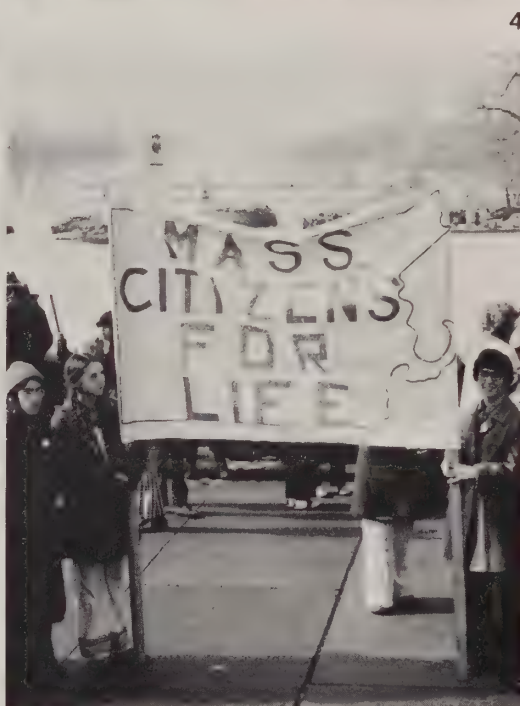

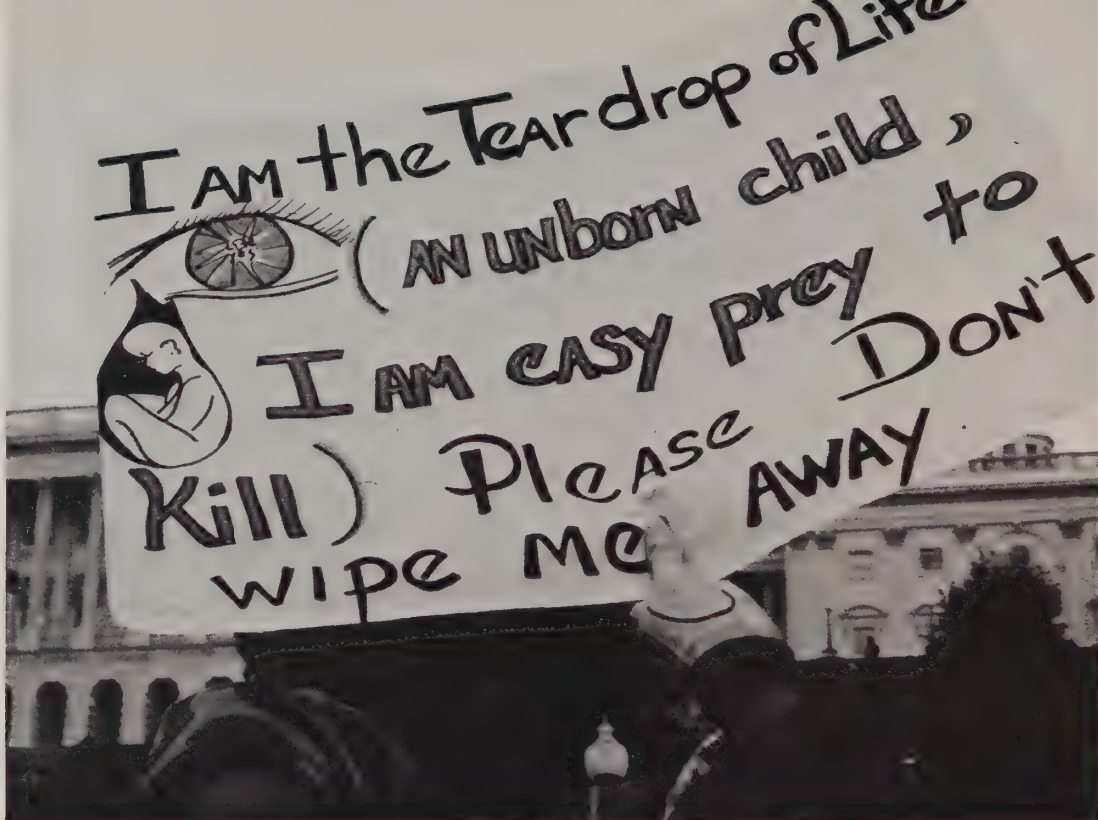

Horse lovers rode weekly at Mountainview Stables, having learned correct saddling, walking, and riding techniques from previous instruction periods. The Riding Club also held Annual Fun Night, which was a type of horse show for the equestrians' parents.

The Red Cross, a symbol of charity, has an established organization at CHS. It arranged the successful visit of the bloodmobile to the school in May 1974. Students under the direction of moderators Sr. Mary Lou McNaney, and Sr. Madeline Tiberii attended to details.

Similar to their varsity counterparts, Frosh Cheerleaders supported their basketball team, attending home games at CHS on Mondays during the season.

Cathedral students tutored pupils from the Children's Study Home, with two teachers per child. Special projects for these youngsters were sponsored by NHS and various classes.

After attending the Northeast Conference of the National Pro-Life Coalition, the Cathedral Pro-Life Club joined the national group. The club meets bi-monthly to write letters to Congressmen and help plan fund raising activities in the Springfield area. In January the group travelled by bus to the Capitol in Washington, D. C. to rally against the Supreme Court decision on abortion.

Chris -
 The main little all the Connections! and by far the best class in M.P. 1310. Chris you were an ideal student - we miss you just "it" waits you and your class will long be remembered it's not to often you run into a unique class like yours. To say I wish the best for you in all you do in an understatement. I know you'll do well.
 Best wishes -

You are drafted the day you receive your locker number and combination. From that moment on, it is a never ending battle. You experience the thrill of victory and the agony of defeat in the war of locks and lockers. Late for class, lost lunch time, headaches and frustration are just a few of the setbacks that are encountered as you and your locker duel to the finish.

Do you know what it is like to collect $92.16 of exact change? Mrs. Shine has done it everyday for five years. As our "milk lady" her job of selling 768 cartons of white and chocolate milk and orange drink a day is just one link in the chain of events that brings you your lunch so that you can enjoy it as shown on page 159.

Fresh air and fresh bread go well together, don't you think? At last, a chance to digest nature along with my lunch; to savor my friends, some sun, and some time before I go back. Even the ants have a great time. All in all, it's a _____twenty-eight minutes.

'76 RINGS: Remember the anticipation? Do you recall the excitement when the day finally came? Can you relive the moment when you first put it on? And what if it didn't fit, if your initials were wrong, or if you wanted a smooth amethyst and got a faceted fire-ray? Back to the factory for another waiting period. Remember the anticipation?? ...

Once again attendance has been taken in a senior study hall. Bits and pieces of conversation are heard echoing down the corridors . . .

"Oh, I signed out for the cafeteria."

"Hey, I'll meet you in the resource center and we can finish our history."

"I'm going home, my last two periods are studies."

"I'm heading for the library. I really have to finish this report."

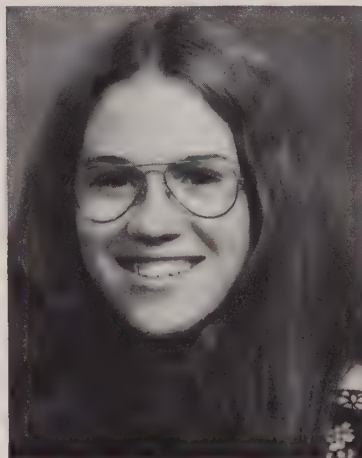

"Remember how different it was without open studies?"

*Chris -
We've known each other since freshmen year
and I think we had some pretty good times. The classes we had together weren't the greatest except maybe last year with the basketball movies. If you see "Luke" later on say hi for me.
Some day we'll have to get together again. Have fun
next year at Renaissance.

His name is Walter Krass and he is the occupant of the 6'X6'X 7' red structure that is his castle. Every day, Monday through Friday, he keeps a watchful guard over his domain, the CHS parking lot. There, his subjects of varied models and makes wait patiently parked for their drivers. Mr. Krass is recently retired, having served thirty-six years with the Springfield police force. His residence is a brisk five-minute walk from his home-away-from-home that was built by the maintenance men to protect him from the elements during the winter months. When asked if he carried a weapon, he replied, "yup, two of 'em." He then extended both arms, smiled broadly, and chuckled to himself. Officer Krass is pleased with his job; he enjoys the alertness of young people and in turn they keep him alert.

Senior Retreat offered our class a chance to get away from the hectic pace of school and spend time with each other in a relaxed atmosphere. Films and discussion helped us to think about ourselves, our faith, other persons. Periods of quiet and time for conversation helped make the day complete, with Penance and liturgy providing a chance for renewal.

Stages of change seem to be treacherous chasms that we encounter. When we have crossed, we see that we have climbed a little higher. As we look back we laugh a little at our past fear of what now appears to have been only a hollow. As we look back we mourn a little, for the beginnings of our journey seem to be greying on the horizon. As we look forward, the light of dawn seems to be making our path a little clearer. We stride on to the next chasm.

There is nothing more worth while than becoming involved with those around you, for in doing so, you come to know yourself
all the more.

What? Me Worry?!!
— Alfred E. Newman

Do not go out of your way to criticize
Do not go out of your way to be humble
If you wish to LAUGH, then LAUGH
If you wish to CRY then CRY

It is simple to imitate another Accept the difficult challenge and
BE YOURSELF

'Do any human beings ever realize life while they live it — every, every minute?'

'No. The saints and poets, maybe — they do some.'

from Our Town by Thornton Wilder

It takes time -
it seems too much time.
Sometimes confusion seems to be all around you and you feel like crying. When spring comes, you feel like dancing. Things start to come together
and everything
seems all right and you feel like crying.

Although there may be some days when you'd just

STAND UP,
MAKE YOURSELF
KNOWN, AND DO NOT BE AFRAID.

as soon throw in the towel, remember that the battle of life at CHS is really worthwhile in THE END.

We extend special thanks to all the educators for their patience and cooperation with all our endeavors, especially Sr. Alice Kenney.

This yearbook would not be complete without expressing deepest appreciation and thanks to Bob and Larry Grenier who spent many Sundays working on our deadlines.

To the Bosses: Sr. Catherine Leary, Mr. Martin Pion, and Sr. Mary Lou Lacey: Words could never express all we've shared. You were the bridge over the troubled waters of our tensions, tears and intolerances. As we crossed the bridge we grew. We thank you.

Well, Staff, we've had our good days and our bad days. But by working together we've managed to have the bad outweighed by the good. Many things have brought us closer: deadlines, birthdays, McDonald's and hard work! So thank you for the cooperation, encouragement, and creativity.

Chris,
I'll never forget that zigger...
how could I ever tell you about the time... A.P. wouldn't have been the same without you and Jack to pull me through.
Even though I didn't achieve the marks
the experience was priceless. Much happened in your future... keep in touch!

Foriella
[THE FLUNKIE]

Christoff,
EX.) 1 year x 2 periods = boredom Given circumstance A, then add one teacher named La Valle (nee Corcoran), and you get B. Make sure to keep in touch because I saw some of the "fruit-cakes" going to RPI, and I'm all by my lonesome. We'll need each other's humor for existence, esp. after EXAMPLE 1.

John S. Marrin
your straight B+ friend.

Chris
you along with myself (of course)
are the only sane
people on the planet
than knowing you
has been both a pleasure and a privilege. Best of luck at Rensselaer (while you're there
tell them to change
the name so I can spell it).

Gary

Did you Clench?

Remember all the great classes
we had in Honors Biology? Neither do I. How 'bout Father Cabillo's class? Look, I'm loving you.

But then again you always loved me. See you soon the courts
this summer.

Jim

Chris,

I'm glad I got to know you over the years here. You've been a great friend. I hope your tennis gets
even better than it

Superstar

Under the direction of Fr. Richard Riendeau, many seniors participated in this year's production of the rock opera "Superstar". Each Sunday for a month and a half, preceeding opening night on Palm Sunday the cast met, for many arduous hours, striving to achieve a polished performance. The cast presented their version of the opera on Monday, March 24th for the school and on each successive evening of Holy Week for the public. Backed by a company of a hundred, portraying crowds, apostles, priests, soldiers and attendants, seniors John Carleton, Patti Driscoll, Ray Borbeau, Joe Kuzdzol, Russ Croteau and Fred Dimouro held major roles. Respectively, they played Jesus, Mary Magdalene, Pontius Pilate, Herod, and a priest. The reverent attitude surrounding the performance added greatly to the audiences' appreciation.

The Threshold Of Tomorrow

A new format highlighted the 1975 production of the annual Minstrel Revue. For the first time in the show's history seven narrators guided the production instead of the traditional two. Through various skits the narrators, including seniors Lisa Barry, Frank Fragomeni, and Bruce Lemieux, introduced over 35 numbers. Each skit and song accentuated the show's futuristic theme, "The Threshold of Tomorrow." Under the direction of Mr. Jean-Pierre Beauregard seniors Jean Butler and Eileen Butler organized the show's production. Senior groups included "Magic to Do", "High Hopes", "Wouldn't It Be Lovely", "Football Hero", and "What Do You Get When You Fall in Love?". Other senior numbers were "Money", "With a Little Bit of Luck", and "Mockingbird". Among the soloists were seniors Tom Hayes singing "Wishbone", Colleen Lancaster with "Put a Little Love in Your Heart", Jean Hewlett and "Somewhere My Love", Eileen Butler singing "With Everything Changing", Patricia Hess doing her baton specialty and Tasha Anderson with "Somewhere Over the Rainbow".

The Devil And Daniel Webster

For the first time in eight years, Fr. Riendeau and a dedicated cast of thirty presented the Senior Opera in English, adding to audience appreciation. This season's musical drama related the story of Jabez Stone (Russell Croteau), who sells his soul to the devil (Fred Dimauro). On his wedding night, Stone and his guests discover that the Devil has come to collect on his bargain. Deserted by all but his wife, Mary Stone (Denise Bergevin), and Daniel Webster (Bob Stein), Stone prepares for his trial before a ghostly judge (Tim Germano) and his ghoulish jury. Eloquently defended by Webster, Stone is released and returns to his joyous wife and guests. This traditional production highlighted the seniors' last week of school.

Senior Picnic

On May 22nd the class of '75
set a precedent
in the history
of senior class activities.

A picnic took place
at High Meadow
in Granby, Connecticut.
It was open to the entire class and about 400 attended.

Faculty members
Bill McBride, Don Simpson, Sisters Ruth O'Connor and Richard Francis, Miss Kathy Perron,
and John Miller,
enjoyed the fun
as chaperones.

The morning's cloudiness
and humidity
dampened no one's spirits.

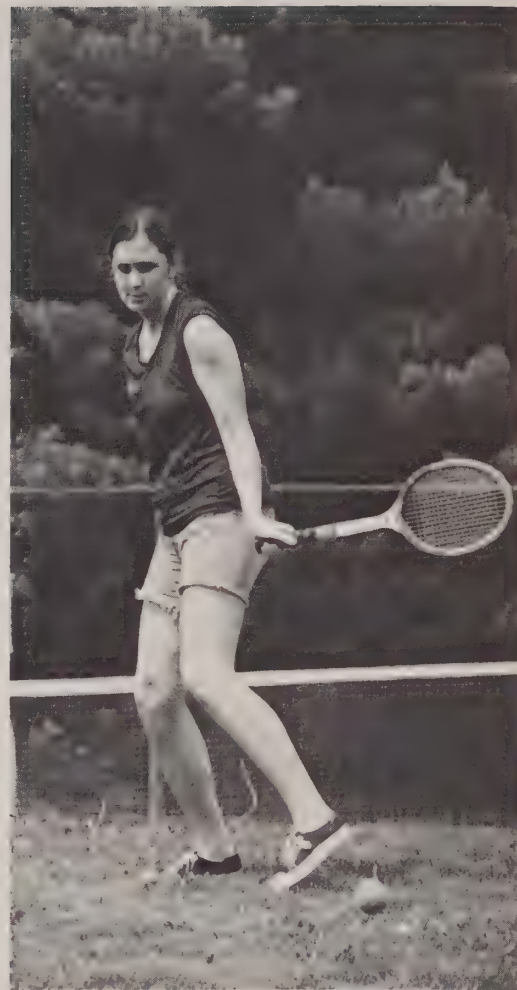

By about one o'clock
the skies brightened
and so did the festivities.

Among the most popular activities
were volleyball, tennis,
swimming, and sunbathing,
along with an occasional football or softball game.

By nightfall
all of the exhausted souls
had settled down
for a nice, quiet evening
of more of the same,
with the added attraction
of dancing to the sound of
"Next of Kin".

Just You 'N Me

On the 22 of May, 1975
the senior class sponsored its Senior Class Prom.

The evening began with a social hour from 7 to 8
during which couples mingled with friends, faculty,
and other guests.

A full course dinner featuring prime ribs of beef followed.

Host and hostess
Miss Kathy Perron
and Mr. William McBride were present to watch over the festivities.

The enormous crowd
of approximately 300 couples,
made for the largest prom
in Cathedral's history.

The enthusiastic couples
danced the night away
to the dynamic sound of "Thundermug".

Unlike previous class gatherings,
the atmosphere of the Prom
had a formal flavor due to the elegant dress of all present.

The many couples enjoyed this traditional and truly memorable affair.

Through The Looking Glass

Coming together to worship for the last time, the senior class, surrounded by relatives and friends, shared bread and wine at the traditional Baccalaureate Mass. Two unique slide presentations chronicling the past and projecting into the future highlighted the celebration. Specially chosen songs accentuated the theme, "Through the Looking Glass", as well as readings given by Martha Harrington, Mary Guay, Roger Talbot, Marty Woytych, Chris Darsigny, and Frank Fragomeni. A special Kiss of Peace as well as communion under both species gave the mass an added reverence. Closing the celebration with the thought "All men have the stars . . . but they are not the same things for different people." this year's senior class left with much hope for their future endeavors.

Boland, Roger Talbot reads the Gospel. 7 A fashionable array of formal attire is displayed by Bob Shewchuk, Patti Dunn, Tom Brodeur, Joan Leary, Fran Fitzgerald, Tom Hayes, Katie Davidson, and Chris Tuomey. 8 Beautifully attired for the big night, Sharon Roberts and Debbie Calabrese pose for the photographer. 9 Capturing the spirit of the mass, the Baccalaureate Choir sings with vivid expression.

Senior Banquet

This year's event marked the last formal gathering of the senior class before graduation.

The evening began with a full course dinner featuring boneless capon, which was served by Cathedral's Caterers.

Class musicians John Dillon, Vinny Walsh, and Ray Bourbeau provided music for enjoyment and relaxation.

Presentation of awards followed the meal.

Senior letter winners received their prizes;

and special awards were handed out by their coaches.

Amidst much laughter, the reading of the class ballot took place in the form of an Academy Awards show, complete with "nominations" and special trophies.

Class officers Frank Fragomeni, Peter Serafino, Nancy Hopkins, and Pat Sweeney presented class advisors Bill McBride, Sr. Ruth O'Connor, Sr. Richard Francis with gifts.

Sr. Alice Kenney and Sr. Patricia Feeley also received tokens of appreciation.

Graduation

Following the precedent set by last year's graduating seniors, the voices of four chosen student speakers represented the Class of 1975.

Implementing the theme "Through the Looking Glass",

Maribeth Hannifin, Loretta Vecchiarelli, Laureen Morrow, and Stephen Dougal spoke of changing perspectives, accepting the challenge to grow, sharing the past and its emotions and the importance of "the warmth of a smile".

Setting a precedent of their own, the graduates-to-be sat in couples rather than the traditional girls-on-the-right, boys-on-the-left arrangement.

Guest speaker Mayor William C. Sullivan offered Springfield's official greeting to the Class of 1975.

Following presentation of 652 diplomas and various awards given for excellence in specific fields of study, The Most Reverend Bishop Christopher J. Weldon challenged each graduate to "be yourself and rise to your full stature".

Upon completion of the bishop's address, the graduates made a valiant effort to sing their Alma Mater.

At the conclusion of the commencement exercises, a deluge of approximately five to six thousand friends and relatives came down upon the graduates to offer congratulations.

1 Offering his congratulations on behalf of the city of Springfield, Mayor William Sullivan greets the class. 2 "Your excellency may I present to you for graduation honors, the Class of 1975." 3 With simple sincerity, Laurie Morrow reflects upon personal relationships. 4 Receiving special honors are valedictorian, Vicki Mansour and salutarian, Michael Lague. 5 Class orator Robert Pellin accepts his diploma and a congratulatory handshake. 6 As the last student speaker, Stephen Dougal expresses a traditional view of our Cathedral education and the world around us. 7 Following the special recognition students the Class of '75 advances to receive their diplomas. 8 With an air of solemnity, Dan Reardon steps from the stage. 9 Final rows of graduates file out before the onslaught of well wishers descends. 10 Graduates Dan O'Brien, Ellen Rauch, Peter Rodrigues and Gina Sarno are seemingly unaware ... 11 of their positions in the pattern ... 12 formed by the alternating purple and white of the newly-initiated seating arrangement.
